Global Trafficking in Women and Children

Edited by

Obi N.I. Ebbe

University of Tennessee, Chattanooga, USA

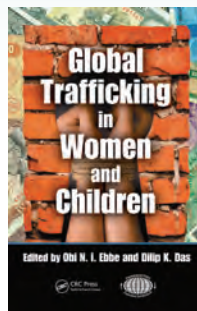

Dilip K. Das

International Police Executive Symposium, New York, USA
and Coppin State University, Baltimore, Maryland, USA

This book provides a powerful analysis of the circumstances that contribute to the abuse and victimization of women and children and the international policies and strategies used to combat this crime. It introduces the definition, nature, and scope of human trafficking; discusses environmental influences; examines control and prevention measures; and includes numerous case studies.

Contemporary Issues in Law Enforcement and Policing

Edited by

Andrew Millie

Loughborough University, Leicestershire, UK

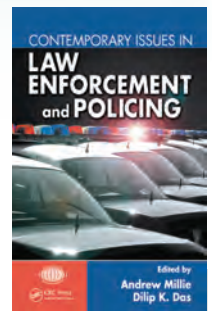

Dilip K. Das

International Police Executive Symposium, New York, USA
and Coppin State University, Baltimore, Maryland, USA

Exploring themes of day to-day policing, ethics and corruption, terrorism, strategy and investigations, and restorative policing, this book focuses on issues that affect today's officers. Derived from articles in the online journal, Police Practice and Research, it contains contributions considered the most important by practicing police officers and police scholars in the US, Canada, Norway, and Australia.

Interviews with Police Leaders Across the Globe

Edited by

Dilip K. Das
International Police Executive Symposium, New York, USA
and Coppin State University, Baltimore, Maryland, USA

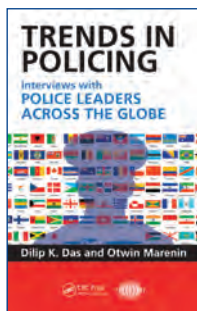

Otwin Marenin

Washington State University, Pullman, USA

While observers' opinions of developments in policing are known, it is rare to get a glimpse of how police themselves assess these advances. Through in-depth interviews with highly placed police leaders and administrators, this text presents cross-cultural perspectives on the functions, training, culture, and societal context of police worldwide. Connecting theory to practice, this impressive group addresses the fundamental contextual changes that add layers of complexity to their work.

Criminal Abuse of Women and Children

An International Perspective

Edited by

Obi N.I. Ebbe

University of Tennessee, Chattanooga, USA

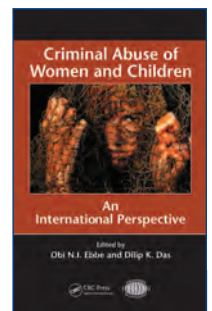

Dilip K. Das

International Police Executive Symposium, New York, USA
and Coppin State University, Baltimore, Maryland, USA

Written by international leaders with firsthand knowledge of the issues, this book investigates criminal and non-criminal abuses of women and children. Following an introduction to the historical antecedents and theoretical explanations of criminal abuse, the text presents case studies from Europe, Asia, Africa, the Middle East, and the Americas. The final chapters conclude with applied perspectives of these case studies.
